Poslam, when used with Poslam, brightens, beautifies complexion.

M'DONALD MIXED UP IN STIRRING DIVORCE

Railroad Promoter's Wife Reveals He Was Correspondent in Dr. W. G. Lee Cole Case.

PAID $500 COUNSEL FEE

Wrote Letter to Presiding Justice, in Which She Espoused Defendant's Cause.

Mrs. Edith McDonald, whose motion to compel James P. McDonald, railroad builder and promoter, to put up a $5,000 bond to secure the payment of alimony was denied last month, submitted papers yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Thayer seeking to refute her husband's defense that he is impoverished.

"I offer as evidence of his ability to make such payments the fact that during his allegedly impoverished condition, at Washington, D. C., Justice Ladd ordered him to pay $500 counsel fee. That was the action in which Dr. W. G. Lee Cole was plaintiff," Mrs. McDonald's affidavit stated.

Her affidavit revealed Mr. McDonald's connection as correspondent with the most stirring divorce case recently in Washington circles, in which various charges and counter charges were made by Dr. and Mrs. Cole. The case came even to President Harding's attention when Dr. Cole's lawyer protested about a letter the President's sister, Mrs. Caroline, wife of another physician, wrote the justice presiding at the trial, endorsing Mrs. Cole's cause.

Mrs. McDonald obtained a separation from the railroad man in 1913 and $400 a month alimony, which later was reduced to $200. He alleged he has been compelled to borrow from friends in recent years to pay even that amount.

CASHIER ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE

Accused of Taking $11,000 in Bonds and Cash.

Samuel Lichtenstein, of 3411 Fulton street, Woodhaven, L. I., was arrested at 107th street and Madison avenue last night by Detectives John Bohan and Emil Koehman and locked up in the East 104th street station, charged with grand larceny in the theft of $11,000 worth of bonds and cash from the private bank of Brecher & Hellpach of 1387 Madison avenue, where he was employed as cashier. The police say also that his wife has sworn out a warrant charging him with abandoning her and their two children.

According to the complaint Lichtenstein stole the bonds and cash on January 26 and left for French Lick Springs, Ind., with a woman companion, after telling his wife he was going on a vacation. From there he went to Chicago, he told the police, and worked for a time. He spent the last of the money a few weeks ago and decided to come home and try to make restitution. He was recognized by the detectives. When he was searched at the police station Lichtenstein had no money whatever.

OWED BILL TO HOTEL, FAKED ROOM ROBBERY

Arrested After Police Investigate Wreckage.

Charles H. White, who has been living at the Hotel Pennsylvania for three days, rushed into the West Thirtieth street police station last night with the news that his room in the hotel had been robbed. Detective Ford accompanied him back and with him viewed the wreck of what he had described as his extensive wardrobe. White said about $200 worth, some of it cash, was gone.

There was a lengthy conference after that, and Carl Bjorn, manager, according to Ford, joined in it. Bjorn, it was said, reminded White that he owed $74.19 for food and cigars and requested that the bill be paid. Ford said White finally admitted he had no money and had plotted a fake robbery as an excuse. He was arrested.

WIFE GETS UP ON SUNDAY, FINDS WOMAN WITH 'HUBBY'

Court Grants Divorce to Mrs. Marjorie F. Gair After She Tells How Stranger Was Being Entertained in Her Own Parlor.

Mrs. Marjorie F. Gair of the Hotel St. George, Brooklyn, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Russell A. Gair, automobile dealer, by Supreme Court Justice Lazansky yesterday.

Mrs. Gair testified that she lived at 37 East Nineteenth street, Flatbush, on June 13 last, a Sunday. She arose about 10 o'clock that morning and to her astonishment, she said, discovered her husband entertaining a strange woman in the living room.

"When I found my husband and this woman together," said Mrs. Gair, "I ordered them from the house. I have seen my husband only once since. Then I told him, emphatically that I would never live with him again."

"Who is this other woman?" inquired Justice Lazansky.

"I don't know," replied the witness. "I do not even know how she got into the house. I have never seen her before and I have not the slightest idea who she was."

The principal witness for Mrs. Gair was Mary Weininger of 300 Grove street, Brooklyn, who was a servant in the Gair home at the time in question. She said that when she arrived at the Gair home that morning to begin the day's work she saw the defendant and the other woman in the living room. The couple were married November 21, 1914, at Trenton. Custody of Russell A. Gair, Jr., was given to the plaintiff. There was no defense.

MRS. HAMMERSTEIN TO END MANHATTAN OPERA

Aims at Chicago and Gallo Companies, Says Manager.

Lawrence Berenson, receiver for Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein and the various musical and operatic companies in which she is interested, declared last night that both he and Mrs. Hammerstein would do all in their power to prevent the production of opera in the Manhattan Opera House.

The Chicago Grand Opera Company, of which Miss Mary Garden is the director general, has a lease on the house until the spring of 1922, but Mr. Berenson said he would see that she was kept out of the theatre because of a breach of faith in terminating certain negotiations. The same reason applies to the Gallo Grand Opera Company, of which Fortune Gault is the head.

The E. H. Stone Company, monument makers, which erected the memorial over Oscar Hammerstein's grave in Woodlawn Cemetery and which has sued Mrs. Hammerstein for $1,326.86, alleged to be due on the memorial, said yesterday that steps would be taken at once to remove the monument and sell it by auction to satisfy the claim.

HEROIN AND COCAINE WORTH $25,000 SEIZED

Detective Gets Tip as to Vendors From a Striker.

Heroin and cocaine worth $25,000 smuggled into this country from Italy and Spain were seized last night by detectives of the narcotic squad. At the same time they arrested Samuel Marano, 35 years, of 300 Troutman street and Tony Mino, 30 years, of 435 Marcy avenue, Brooklyn. They were arrested at Eighth avenue and Forty-eighth street, and it is charged that Marano had the drugs in his possession.

The tip that led to the capture came from a waterfront striker who was befriended several days ago by Detective Edward Polakoff. The striker in gratitude for the price of a meal pointed out a man walking through West street and urged Polakoff to follow him. The man proved to be Marano, it was said.

Polakoff received the tip ten days ago, and in the meantime he had befriended several strikers, Marano, and opened negotiations for the purchase of drugs, it was said.

SWORE AT PLUMBERS TO KEEP THEM MOVING

Had to Keep After Them, Tenor's Wife Asserts.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., May 18.—"Of course, I swore at them; anybody would have sworn at them; you would have sworn at them," exclaimed Mrs. Orville Harold, wife of the tenor to Judge Keeler while testifying to-day in a civil suit brought by Joseph F. McLaughlin, plumber, in the Common Pleas Court. Mrs. Harold said the plumbers were so slow and made so many "balls" she had to "keep after them" all the time.

The action was instituted by McLaughlin for $2,561, he claiming that sum still due for work he did in the Harold home at West Norwalk. Mrs. Harold paid the plumber $4,000 and said that was the contract price. McLaughlin claimed that he just gave an estimate of the cost and that Mrs. Harold kept having extras done and kept "nagging the men."

MRS. CAROLINA SODERO WINS SEPARATION SUIT

Fox Musical Director Must Pay $100 a Week to Wife.

Mrs. Carolina Soderio of 2267 Eighth street, Brooklyn, was granted a separation yesterday from Cesare Soderio, musical director of the Fox theatrical enterprises, by Supreme Court Justice Benedict in Brooklyn. The court awarded her $100 a week alimony.

The couple were married at Alexandria, Egypt, on May 4, 1906. Mrs. Soderio said that in February, 1920, her husband flung a large inkstand at her, but it missed her. She alleged that he abandoned her last December. There are five children.

LEGION SOUNDS CANADA

OTTAWA, May 18.—The Dominion command of the Great War Veterans Association to-day was asked by the American Legion if it would support a demand for extradition from Germany of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia drug dodger.

A letter signed by J. E. Darat, assistant director of the legion, indicated the American veterans' organization might appeal to the Canadian Government for backing in their demand for return of Bergdoll.

MRS. LILLIAN BROCKWAY SUICIDE TO AVOID PAIN

Suffered From Cancer and Feared Fifth Operation.

A window cleaner employed at the Hotel Monticello, 35 West Sixty-fourth street, failing to get an answer to his ring, entered the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Lillian Brockway with a pass key yesterday afternoon and found Mrs. Brockway dead on the floor with a revolver near her hand. The police decided she had committed suicide.

Mrs. Brockway returned to the hotel about two hours later. He said his wife, who was 59 years old, had suffered from cancer. She left a note addressed to him, which read: "Good bye. I could not stand the suffering any longer or the thought of an operation." Mr. Brockway said she had undergone four operations. They lived until recently in Waterbury, Conn.

MAID LEAVES $11,000 ESTATE.

George T. Stewart of 90 North Broadway, Yonkers, is made the residuary legatee under the will of Mrs. Mary L. Thomas of Yonkers, a negroes, who formerly worked as maid in the Stewart family. The will was filed for probate yesterday at White Plains and leaves Stewart real estate valued at $9,000 and personal property worth about $2,000, after a few small bequests are disposed of.

Your Will

MANY families have endured unhappiness and suffering, simply because the head of the family did not give the same careful consideration to writing his will and appointing his executor as he did to daily business transactions.

Unless your will has been written by a competent attorney and an experienced, trained executor appointed, you have no assurance that your family's future will be untroubled by estate litigation.

We invite you to consult our officers about the many advantages of a corporate executor.
